Dear Mr. Fleasants:

With reference to our conversation of January 8, 1950, I should like to inform you that the Foreign Office is communicating with the directors of the FEH and ANGEHELEN in connection with the question of the checking of persons of foreign extraction employed by these organizations. The principles for the checking of these individuals as worked out by the competent federal and Bavarian Land authorities have been sent to the directors. I am attaching a copy of these principles.

Principles for an Agreement regarding the Checking of Persons employed by the (FIC) Radio Stations

1. Principles:

The directors of the radio stations undertake to employ with the stations no persons against whom the Land Office for the Protection of the Constitution has objections. This applies also to persons temporarily employed or engaged for individual broadcasts. Persons against whom objections are raised may, in exceptional cases, be employed by the radio stations in some other activity if this is agreeable to the Bavarian Land Office for the Protection of the Constitution.

2. Persons already employed:

All persons now employed by the radio stations will be made known to the Land Office for the Protection of the Constitution for checking.

3. Persons to be employed:

All persons to be employed by the radio stations, including those coming from outside the country, are to be promptly reported to the Bavarian Land Office for the Protection of the Constitution for prior checking. This applies also to persons whose employment is to be temporary or who are to be engaged for individual broadcasts.

4. Personnel Complement:

Changes in personnel complement and changes in the nature of the employment of any given person are to be reported to the Bavarian Land Office for the Protection of the Constitution.

5. Applications:

This regulation is applicable also to persons of AMCOMLIB, Research Institute for the USSR, the FEU, and the Free Europe Citizens Service, and all other subordinate or associated institutions of AMCOMLIB and FEU insofar as these are located in the Federal Republic.
